

Women's Suffrage DBQ

Emmeline Pankhurst, Why We Are Militant

I want to say here and now that the only justification for violence, the only justification for damage to property, the only justification for risk to the comfort of other human beings is the fact that you have tried all other available means and have failed to secure justice.

- Emmeline Pankhurst, excerpt from Why We Are Militant

Document-Based Questions: Please the following question using complete sentences, based on the reading selection and your knowledge of social studies.

1. Imagine that you are a woman living before women's suffrage (right to vote). How far would you go to gain the right to vote? Explain your answer.