

History shows that just as thorough education in the belief in the inequality of the races has brought the world to the cat-and-dog stage of religious and racial strife, so may thorough education in the equality of the races bring about a reign of brotherhood through an appreciation of all races, creeds, and colors.

Carter G. Woodson, 1875-1950