

Christmas Head-Scratchers

One day, a Viking warrior named Rudolph the Red was gazing out from his window. "It's going to rain," he said. "How do you know, dear?" asked his wife. "Because Rudolph the Red knows rain, dear."

JOKES

Gertrude's holiday sweater is so ugly, that instead of stealing it, the Grinch put it back under the tree.

Why does everyone like Frosty the Snowman?
Because he's so cool!

What do elves do after school?
Their gnome-work.

UNSCRAMBLERS

1. Naughty children get LOAC in their stockings.
2. Santa Claus drives a GLSEIH.
3. O ABNTANENUM, O ABNTANENUM;
Wie treu sind deine Blatter!
4. OOOHRTDX Christmas is celebrated in January.
5. All is calm; all is THIBRG.
6. The birth of Jesus is called the AIITTNVY.
7. Approximately two billion out of a worldwide OOUAINTLPP of 7.4 billion celebrate Christmas each year.

Circle the five differences.

