

Outline of the Interwar Period in American History

- I. Introduction to the Interwar Period
 - A. Definition and timeline
 - B. Context: aftermath of World War I
- II. The Treaty of Versailles
 - A. Terms and impact on Germany
 - B. League of Nations and U.S. rejection
- III. The Roaring Twenties
 - A. Economic prosperity
 - B. Social and cultural changes (e.g., the Jazz Age)
 - C. Prohibition and organized crime
- IV. The Great Depression
 - A. Causes and stock market crash
 - B. Hoover's response
 - C. The Dust Bowl
- V. The New Deal
 - A. FDR's election and policies
 - B. Alphabet agencies and relief programs
 - C. Legacy of the New Deal
- VI. Rise of Totalitarianism
 - A. Fascism in Italy
 - B. Nazism in Germany
 - C. Stalin's rule in the Soviet Union
- VII. The Interwar Period in Asia
 - A. Japanese expansionism
 - B. Chinese Civil War
 - C. Manchuria and the League of Nations
- VIII. U.S. Foreign Policy
 - A. Isolationism and the Kellogg-Briand Pact
 - B. Impact of the Good Neighbor Policy
 - C. Lend-Lease Act and the road to World War II
- IX. Art and Culture
 - A. Literature and the Lost Generation
 - B. Art movements (e.g., Surrealism)
 - C. The impact of technology (e.g., radio and film)
- X. The Road to World War II
 - A. Anschluss and the Sudetenland
 - B. Munich Agreement
 - C. Outbreak of World War II
- XI. The Legacy of the Interwar Period
 - A. Shaping the modern world
 - B. The United Nations